DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/3/2006 has been entered.

Claim Interpretations

It is noted by the examiner that the instant claim 1 is a product by process claim. Therefore, for purposes of examination, the claim is interpreted as a product having a three dimensional structure and a continuously varying thickness and a smoothly topography.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 1752

3. Claims 1, 3, 5, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Choquette et al (6,245,412).

Choquette et al disclose a device having a diffractive optical pattern comprising a plastic material in a blazed grating pattern (see figures 1A and C). The grating pattern is formed of a UVcurable plastic, preferably an epoxy resin (see column 5, lines 1-52). As depicted, the 3-D pattern consists of a continuously varying thickness and smoothly varying topography, thus meeting the instant product/ article claim limitations.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ozarski et al (2001/0003035), Koeda et al (2001/0017184), Koeda et al (2003/0213768), Brown et al (6,613,498), and Laude (6,417,939) are cited for their teachings of similar devices and materials.
